M. M. MURDOCK &amp; BROTHER, Proprietors.

PERSONAL AND LOCAL ITEMS OF NEWS

FOURTH OF JULY
WILL BE
Celebrated in Grand Style
AT BAYLEY'S PARK.

Take Street Cars for South Main street, which will run direct to the Park.

Speaking in the morning, music by band and string band all day.

Roller Skating Contest, Park Ave., Grand Polo Clubing, all for prizes. Umpire, Charles. Billings, Assessor and Fireworks at night with forty-foot square drape. Beer, Dense Soda, Refreshments, all for sale.

No charge for admission.

George Innis arrived from Lawrence last evening.

Dr. P. J. M. Barker of Kingman, was in town yesterday.

Major Powell is putting down all steel rails on the extension of the street railway.

H. R. Nickerson, superintendent of the Santa Fe, passed south yesterday and returned last evening.

R. P. Murdoch went to El Dorado yesterday morning and from there to Florence, returning last night.

Miss Agnes and Clara Lynch returned from Chihuahua, N. M., last night where they had been visiting a few days.

Miss Fannie Jackson and Miss Lillie Miller, came down from Emporia last night and will visit a few days in the city.

Wm. A. Russell, late of this city, but now contractor and builder at Freeport, is in town yesterday. He says Freeport is all alive and kicking.

Old translation: "Eat, drink and be merry for to-morrow you may die." New version: "Eat, drink and be merry, for to-morrow the joints may be closed up."

A. J. Farmer, J. W. Flood and S. L. Taylor, all of Goodland, were in town yesterday. The Goodland folks are in a big Fourth.

Twenty-five dollars' worth of fireworks were bought for the occasion in this city yesterday.

Hon. Edward Aheran, ex-member of the legislature of Fayetteville county, Ill.; Dr. Charles Bassett, of same county, a prominent physician, are visiting friends in Wichita, and have an eye to business at the same time.

Dibble &amp; Cunningham's new lack is a beauty. It was made in Quincy, Ill. On the right side is a clock and a complete dressing case and on the left fan holder, etc., and at the back of the front seat is a bell handle, the bell being under the drivers seat.

A. G. Walden showed us a card of invitation and a programme, yesterday, that for beauty of design and execution exceeds anything of the kind we ever saw. The invitation is from the grand lodge of the Kentucky Uniform Knights of Pythias, that are to have a grand annual drill at Paris, in that state.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church will hold their regular monthly meeting in the lecture room of the church this afternoon, at 2 o'clock. A general invitation is extended to all friends of missionary work.

Miss Florence Toller, of Junction City, has bought Miss Alice Merrill's interest in the dressmaking establishment of Misses Rhodes &amp; Merrill, doing business over the bank of commerce. The firm now is Miss Rhodes &amp; Miss Toller. See their ad. in our special column.

Our Uniform Knights of Pythias have been doing well in the matter of drill, etc., but they could do better. The several lodges of that order all over the United States are making prodigious efforts to become well-nigh perfect in drill and organization which is no reason whatever why the lodge of this city should be behind.

John Sullard, of the Avenue. Report on East Douglas avenue, caught a thirty pound catfish yesterday morning, out of the bayou on Walnut. Now the catching of the fish was not very remarkable, as many are caught at that place, but this fish had aglow and seventeen brass buttons within its maw. To say that the contents of its stomach was a surprise does not fully convey the idea, it raised the hopes of the fishermen beyond all reason—he is now trying to catch one with a crocus in its stomach.

Whenever a stagnant pool or a filthy spot is found in an alley or back yard in this city we all raise a howl about it, but this from the Emporia Republican would seem to indicate that they have some place right in the middle of the street of that city, and Emporia is said to be a real nice village too.

A transfer wagon loaded with household effects got stuck in the front pond on Commercial street between Third and Fourth streets, and it took considerable digging, four horses, a half dozen men, some property and over a long time to get it out. That particular hole is a great nuisance as well as a fever breeder.

HIJOU THEATRE.

Casto, a play that portrays different phases of life and class, was on the boards at the rink last night in a very happy strain, interspersed and spiced with a display of wit and humor that was quite enjoyable.

The serio-comic acting of the heroine of the play was well done and brought the applause of the house.

A CHALLENGE.

The Millionaire ball club hereby challenges the Conway Springs ball club to play a match game under the league rules for $50 a side, the same to take place on the Wichita base ball grounds July 2nd, 1885. To show that we mean business we will, if necessary, deposit the money with the editor of the Eagle. Now boys, come up and show your colors, or shut up.

Yours Respectfully, DR. HAMILTON, Capt. M. R. R. C.

MARRIED.

Mr. J. E. Shepard of this city and Miss Jessie L. Brown, of Weston, Mo., were married at Newton Wednesday, June 24th, by E. A. Brennan, J. P.

The Evans drops its benediction on the young couple and trusts for them a realization of their fullest hopes. May happiness ever brighten their home and the richest blessings of Heaven rest lovingly on their journey through life. Heaven, alas, ever jealous of her smiles glow with her golden beams, and day opens brighter when the realization of love and marriage arrives, that it may continue undimmed in the crowning glory of domestic happiness.

BASE BALL CONTEST.

The Eldorado Base Ball club will meet the Wichita nine on Saturday in a contest for $50. The match is believed to be an equal one and a splendid spirited contest is anticipated.

The Oklahe Base Ball club, one of the crack professional clubs of the west, and the best west of the Mississippi river, is booked to play at the Carey Park on the 7th and 8th of August in their tour over the state.

Our city club is trying in every way to enter the lists and keep pace with the sports of the green so that they may stand a favorable comparison with other amateur performers.

"A MATTER OF PUBLIC CONCERN."

An article under the above caption appeared in yesterday's Beacon which from certain facts in possession of the writer, evidently covers a purpose not dreamed of by the ten gentlemen whose names are appended to it. They are honorable gentlemen and the writer believes a majority of them did not look below the surface of this matter. The editor of the Eagle is in Topeka, and he who writes this article believes from certain facts in his possession that there is a "nigger in the fence," in this matter and that one man who upon its face, does not appear to be concerned in it at all, is the prime mover.

Conscientious Campbell has made a success of the schools, when others failed, and although he may be deficient in some studies, he has demonstrated to the satisfaction of the school board and to a large majority of the people of Wichita that he is competent to superintend the schools. It is not always the case that the best educated men are the best educators. After having conducted the schools well for one term, and having been again chosen superintendent by the board of education, it is rather late now to stir up the matter. It was the duty of the board to elect a new board of examiners, and they certainly had a right to choose whom they thought best. As the writer understands it, Mr. Campbell made no complaint of a "set up job," nor that he was unfairly treated at his examination. The "set up job" appears more evident in the present move, and those who say the job is hidden behind the scenes. The examination questions, as is stated in the article, have been carefully preserved, certainly, while all other examination papers have been given up. This probably is a "set up job," too.

Though Mr. Campbell may have failed in some points of the examination and it is probable he did, there are others occupying high educational positions whose education is inferior to his. The facts appear to be that Mr. Campbell can be shown to have given bad answers in physiology and some other branches, and certain gentlemen whose names are not to that article, wish to expose him, not in the interest of the schools, but from less honorable motives. The writer believes, as set out at the beginning of this article that a majority of those whose names are signed to the question, have nothing to do with the motives hinted at and have been induced to sign it without having looked for any ulterior motives.

MAGISTRATES COURTS.

In Judge Thomas' court yesterday, the case of Michael Downing charged with stealing was up for hearing and continued to today.

Warrant was issued for the arrest of Wm. Davis, charged with the theft of jewelry from the rink on Wednesday, the property of Mrs. Vinton.

In Judge Holbe's court yesterday an attachment case was up for hearing, in which Chauncy Freeman was plaintiff and Chris. Pierceberg was defendant. The action was to garnish credit of his step-son and continued to a further hearing.

Another case attracting the attention of the court was that of the State of Kansas vs. Dennis Thomas, in which Dennis stood charged with disturbing the peace. The prosecuting witness, Stella Bloom, recounted to the court the enormity of the offense that had been committed. The principals and witnesses in this case were the colored persuasion, and Stella, who appeared as the injured party, was what is impudently designated as a saddle-colored, while the defendant was several shades darker. Dennis Thomas had just gone through the mill as defendant in the police court for gambling, being drunk and carrying concealed weapons, and appeared in this court to confront his prosecutor who detailed how he had demanded admittance to her house at 12 o'clock at night and when admittance was denied him he had broken in the door and had committed the offense of the defendant. "That nigger dar and another nigger and a white man was dar, and dat is de very same black nigger, I does," were the words of the witness as she plied the facts to the ear of the court. When asked by the defendant's attorney, Doc Kessler, where she lived, she replied: "You 'nows whar I lives, you're done been dar, you've been dar often." Witness also gave an account of how she had tried to put Dennis out and how he had done other things which were very unpleasant—like in a lady's house.

The trial was one of the richest that has graced the magistrate's court for a long time and she backed ground was not lit up but shadowed with interested spectators of the African race.

The fine assessed was $1 and costs, in default of which Dennis Thomas was sent to jail, where he already had a sentence from the police court.

IN THE POLICE COURT.

Mrs. A. A. Parker was before the police court, charged with violating the city fire ordinances by moving a building on 23rd Main street, on the 4th day of August, 1885, said to be being within the fire limits of the city. A motion to dismiss was filed by her attorney and overruled, and the case set up for hearing. The first witness stated that his name was Charles Zinsinger, and that he claimed two feet of the ground on which said house stood, and that the house was one part of another house, from which it had been taken and removed a distance over three of defendant's lots to its present location.

The court decided that the moving of a house from any point within the fire limits to any other point within the fire district was an offense, even if the distance moved should be in an adjoining lot of the owner. The court had no doubt on that question, but the case, said the court, has not been made out to my satisfaction, as two clauses of the fire ordinance conflict.

The real question of the day in this court was the introduction of four colored men, Robert Thomas, Wm. Cud, Dennis Thomas, and Andy Wood, for gambling. They had been indulging in what is styled "crap playing," a favorite game of dice, exclusively played by that race, and their entrance into court was followed by fourteen of their color. They were all young men who might be expected to be in better business and were accompanied by an old auntie who said her only boy had been arrested.

Andy Wood, one of the defendants had a crack on his head which showed out in bold relief on his face, and he was charged with putting on the witness stand but failed to give his name. After the court failed to make a case to convict them he read the gambling law to the whole lot and stated that he would not hesitate to put the highest penalty on any one who was convicted of gambling before him and discharged them.

Jake Kelly was fined for a very plain drink.

Annie Woods for gambling, and Annie Woods for carrying concealed weapons was fined $5 and Annie Woods, the dusky Annie Woods was sent to the cooler to tarry awhile.

TUMBLING DOWN.

The price of milling wheat dropped 10 cents per bushel yesterday in this market. This may appear somewhat strange because it has dropped only about 4 cents in the last few days in Chicago. At last advices it was 87 1/2 in Chicago and it is 80 cents in this market. It will readily be seen that the Chicago basis 80 cents is all it is worth here. The reason of the discrepancy in the fall between this and the Chicago market is that for a month or more our millers were paying even a higher price for wheat than could be got in Chicago. In consequence of which they could not compete with eastern millers in the southern markets, or in any market, for that matter. At the prices they were paying for wheat, outside millers could undersell them even in this market. Our millers have had a considerable trade in Arkansas and the south and they find that if they continue to pay so high for wheat they must inevitably lose this trade. If we had the great Arkansas Valley railroad built our millers could pay as high a price for wheat as Chicago millers and compete successfully with them in the southern markets, but as it is now that is impossible.

DON'T WANT A BONUS.

Yesterday evening's Beacon prints a little item concerning Mr. Culver, state sawing mill handed in to that paper by Mr. Culver himself, but which was written by Mr. Campbell, who is doing the construction of the mill. Mr. Culver never looked at it as he assures us. Mr. Campbell intended the item for the Eagle, not for the Beacon, but as the Beacon had a little squab about the mill yesterday, and at the Beacon reporter has continually bored Mr. Culver for an item he handed it to the Beacon, the idea of a bonus never entering his mind. Mr. Culver leased a piece of ground for the mill a week ago and let his order for the machinery at the Globe Iron Works, and never thought of and wouldn't accept a bonus. The astute editor of the Beacon, however, with his usual deep penetration saw in the innocent little squab, a deep laid scheme to hood the city, and laying off his fatherly heart out, he proceeds to do Mr. Culver up in his usual faultless style.

RUNAWAY PREVENTED.

Just at the east bound train on the Santa Fe was about to pull out from the Douglas avenue depot yesterday evening, Minnie Dibi, a little girl about twelve years of age, attempted to board the train but was stopped by Policeman Marallat. Minnie was well known about the depot and when she bought a ticket the boys in office suspected something wrong and questioned her, when she said she was going to see an aunt in Kansas City. This not being altogether assuring, Officer Marallat was put onto the racket and prevented her going as already stated. On being closely questioned, she owned up that she and her mother, who lives on South Fourth avenue had a quarrel and that she intended to skip out. From other information gathered in this connection it appears this girl has been running about a good deal at night and that her mother had determined to put a stop to it, therefore she intended to go out on her own hook. The reform school is the best place for such a girl.

RAILROAD MAGNATES.

A special train arrived in this city last evening on the St. Louis, Fort Scott and Wichita railroad, supposed to contain H. M. Hoxie, third vice-president of the Southwestern division of the Gould system, George Gould, son of Jay Gould, J. W. Miller, vice-president and general manager of the Sunflower, and other officials. Mr. Hoxie and Mr. Miller were known to be on the train, but we have no definite information as to whom the rest of the party were, but Agent Jones said Mr. Gould was expected to be of the party. After stopping here about fifteen minutes they proceeded west. The object of the visit of these distinguished railroaders, as far as known to us, is to inspect the project, Mr. Hoxie nor Mr. Gould never having been over this important branch of their system before.

DISTRICT COURT.

The testimony in the case of Mr. M. F. Brown vs. Bentley, Hatfield &amp; Bentley, was concluded yesterday and now awaits the final decision of Judge Sloss. It has been a hotly contested case from the first and a large amount of evidence was taken on both sides, consuming three days time.

The case of Wm. Reed vs. Kirkpatrick et al., in chancery, an action to foreclose a mortgage against minors, was up yesterday on demurrer. G. W. C. Jones for plaintiff and E. C. Ruggles for defendants.

A number of orders taken in chancery cases through the day and a good deal of business transacted.
